

Great River Road Driving Tour

Part of the driving tour of the Great River Road (LA-405) from Plaquemine through Bayou Goula to White Castle, Louisiana.

① *St. Louis**
57473 St. Louis Road
Plaquemine, LA 70764

St. Louis historic home was built in 1857 by U.S. Rep. Edward J. Gay. It was named for the City of St. Louis. It has six columns and a gallery across the front, along with a rooftop belvedere; and is another Iberville Parish property listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

② Madonna Chapel
28527 LA-405
Plaquemine, LA 70764

Iberville Parish has a spot in Ripley's Believe It or Not for its beloved Madonna Chapel, the smallest church in the world. Built by Anthony Gullo in 1902. The chapel is open daily for those who wish to visit and enjoy its solitude; the key is kept in the mailbox.

③ *St. Paul Church**
29780 LA-405
White Castle, LA 70788

Built in 1871, St. Paul Catholic church holds a special place in the hearts and minds of the Bayou Goula area. It is cherished for its historical significance, its simplistic beauty, and for its role in the early development of the parish. After hurricane damage in 2008, the church has made a comeback.

④ *Tally Ho**
30160 LA-405
White Castle, LA 70788

Sometime before 1855, Jean Fleming owned Tally Ho Plantation. In 1848, it was purchased by John Murrell of Virginia and has remained in his family since. The current house is what was used as the overseers home, after the main house burned in 1945. It is a raised Acadian cottage with Classical Revival influences.

⑤ Nottoway Resort
31025 Hwy.1
White Castle, LA 70788

Certainly Iberville's claim to fame, the majestic Nottoway Resort is the largest remaining historic home in the south. Nottoway was completed in 1859 for Mr. and Mrs. John Hampden Randolph and their 11 children. The wealth of sugarcane farmer Randolph shows with 15' ceilings in its 64 rooms and intricate woodwork throughout. Dine, relax, stay, or shop at Nottoway.
